Most of the Northeastern food is fermented or dried because of rainless, so a dish tends to have a distinctive salty flavor from fermented fish sauce and a spicy flavor from fresh or dried chili. To eat like the Isan people, we recommend you to try Som Tum with fermented fish sauce.

Tips: Better to mold the sticky rice in your hand before dipping into the Som Tum!

Papaya Salad and condiment (Som Tam)

ส้มตำไทย / ปูดอม / ปลาร้า

Spicy Minced Chicken Salad (Larb Gai) ລາບໄດ່

Thai Marinated Grilled Chicken (Gai Yang) ไก่ย่าง

Sticky Rice ง้าวเหนียว

Here're the must-try local Phuket dishes. Our chefs have a secret recipe from a local Phuketian, guaranteed that the taste is truly original.
