THAI WATER CEREMONY:

The Thai Water ceremony is a traditional Thai wedding ceremony. The engaged couple sit together and kneel over a bench and cup their hands over an ornate silver bowl filled with flowers, typically lotus flowers (symbolizing fertility) A string is traditionally draped from the bride to the groom's head, symbolizing their union. Guest of the wedding, usually led by the most respected elders in attendance, will take turns approaching the couple and pouring water from a conch shell over the hands of the engaged couple, and offer word of good luck.
